Customer Reviews

If you're just starting to read Lynn Hagen with this story, I suggest reading Christian's Menace (Christian's Coven 1) as well as His Little Vampire (Brac Pack Next Gen 10). Those will give you the basics and background on Minzhe. So Minzhe is a vampire, the son of Christian, Minsheng, and Yasuko. He meets his mate Simon in the last book (#10) . He has no idea why a human is helping Decue, a wolf shifter, and is taken in for questioning. From there Minzhe learns about his mate, and another pairing begins. But of course there's a catch because this one involves money and sticky fingers. If you're not familiar with the Brac Pack and various offshoots of Lynn Hagen's stories you'll wonder about past characters and what's happening. When everyone was stepping around Simon names were familiar but I'd forgotten family connections. . . Then of all things Christian is off and he's talking to himself about being glad he always kept that wolf around: Logan. So I had to stop and think who Logan was. I'm still wondering. Simon comes from an abusive home. Who knows how long Simon was under his uncle's thumb - He doesn't talk about his parents or think about them. It's unclear if he is slightly off or if it's damage from constant physical and abuse. As he's presented, Simon is scared, fearful, yet has a strong connection of trust with his mate Minzhe. I don't know if his courage is due to not processing things or if he has a defeatist attitude to where things can't get any worse. Simon is in pain from his abuse and confused. He doesn't know what mates are, shifters, vampires, or how quickly his life has changed. So when Minzhe did the talk about children I don't think Simon understood.
